ART DEPARTMENT: Mr. Galloway reports that the first art exhibition of the 1961-1962 season, a large group of color lithographs by Ralston Crawford, will be presented in the Oakland Center lounge between October 19 and November 12. Crawford, one of America's earlier abstract artists, was born in Canada and has lived mainly in New York. A number of his paintings were shown this spring at the Detroit Institute of Art's large "Precisionist" exhibit. His art is also well-known in Europe.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

RECORDER LESSONS: If there are several faculty members, wives, or students interested in group instruction in recorder playing, some of the present addicts would be willing to spread the faith by giving elementary guidance and advice. Mr. Haden is willing to compile the list of applicants. (129 NFH, Ext. 2187)

LECTURE: A lecture by Mr. Hoopes on the tradition of courtly love that grew up in the late middle ages, and has profoundly influenced both literature and life in the West, is scheduled for 12 noon, October 18, 156 NFH.

FACULTY BRIDGE CLUB: The Faculty Mixed Bridge Group will meet at 8 p.m., Friday, October 13 in the Oakland Center. The great interest expressed in participating has made it necessary to move to larger quarters. All those interested should call Mrs. Stoutenburg (OL 1-0586) no later than Wednesday, October 11. In the event that someone who has already signed up will be unable to attend, notice by the same date would be helpful in arranging for the right number of couples to make the tables come out evenly.
